

Definitions and Terms

'Net zero' refers to achieving an overall balance between emissions produced and emissions taken out of the atmosphere. Simply, this means that for all the emissions produced there must be actions in place to remove the same level of emissions from the atmosphere.